

CRIME WAVE ENGULFS MANY WHITE YOUTHS

Record Number Before Montgomery County Circuit Court for Trial.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHRISTIANBURG, VA., May 4.—The May term of the Montgomery County Circuit Court began Monday, with Judge A. D. Dabney, of the Corporation Court of the city of Charlottesville, presiding. The day being designated by Governor E. Lee Trinkle to hold the term for Judge W. W. Moffett, of Roanoke, who was unable to preside. A large number of indictments were brought in for felonies and violations of the prohibition laws.

Never in the history of the county were so many youths, ranging from 14 to 19, indicted and arraigned at the bar, there being some nine or ten, and most of them being for housebreaking and larceny. All were white with one exception, a colored boy from Pilot being charged with housebreaking and the larceny of ten hens. All pleaded guilty, and all were given jail or reformatory sentences except two, who had been previously convicted, and the court has their cases under advisement.

One youth of 19 was given two years in the penitentiary on the charge of robbing Roland E. Harris, of Roanoke, of an automobile near Shawsville last September, on his plea of guilty of grand larceny, and his brother of 15, who was implicated, was given six months in jail for assault and battery, which was suspended during good behavior, and he was put on probation.

A large number of persons under indictment for violation of the prohibition laws pleaded guilty and verdicts were agreed upon between the State and the accused and Thomas Whitehead, counsel for the State, prohibition Commissioner, who was present assisting the Commonwealth's attorney, and who took charge of the liquor cases while the latter was engaged in handling the felony cases.

The application for a permit to sell alcoholic liquors on physicians' prescriptions, made by a Cambridge drug store, filed on the first day, was opposed by a number of women's organizations, as well as by the ministers of the two churches, and the court continued the case till next term. Judge Dabney has been the recipient of many compliments for his courteous and prompt manner in dispatching business, and has made a most favorable impression on all who have met and observed him, this being his first visit to Christiansburg.

NEW ROTARY DISTRICT DIVISION IN EFFECT

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] DAVENPORT, VA., May 4.—The Seventh Rotary District has been subdivided and many of the cities which have been included in the territory are now estranged by the dividing line. Official Rotary circulars announcing the change were received today. The seventh district is now split up, part of it being in the Thirtieth and part in the Thirtieth-eighth division. The Thirtieth-eighth division includes all of the Virginia clubs, with the exception of Bristol, Bluefield, W. Va., and the following North Carolina cities: Durham, Charlotte, Farmville, Fayetteville, Goldsboro, Greenville, Henderson, Kinston, New Bern, Raleigh, Washington, Wilmington, and Wilson.

The Thirtieth-eighth district will be composed of Asheville, Charlotte, Concord, Gastonia, Greensboro, Hickory, High Point, Lexington, Monroe, Mooresville, Raleigh, Salisbury, Statesville, Thomasville and Winston-Salem, N. C.

Gives Bootlegger $100 Bill; No Change

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NORFOLK, VA., May 4.—The next time Ray M. Talley gets hold of a $100 bill he'll get it changed before he buys whisky from a bootlegger. Offering a $100 bill for a quart yesterday, not only cost him that amount on the spot, but resulted in his arrest on a charge of being drunk and carrying a concealed weapon, and lines aggregating $110.

Patrolman C. L. Springle arrested Talley yesterday on a charge of being drunk. Then he saw a big gun slip down Talley's trousers leg and fall on the ground. That made the concealed weapon charge necessary.

In Police Court today, Talley said he had a hazy recollection of offering the bootlegger a $100 bill in payment for a quart of booze and the fellow had no change. "I didn't want to lose my money," said Talley, "and the bootlegger gave me his pistol to hold with it if he didn't come back."

NAVY URGES RETENTION OF VA. PROVING GROUND

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt Points Out Dahlgren's Superiority of Range.

[By Associated Press.] WASHINGTON, May 4.—Retention and development of Dahlgren, Va., naval proving ground was urged vigorously today upon the Senate Appropriations Committee revising the annual naval appropriation bill by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt and Rear Admiral McVay, chief of naval ordnance bureau. They asked the committee to strike out a House provision for virtual abandonment of the Dahlgren ground.

That sentiment in the navy was unanimous for continuation and expansion at Dahlgren was stated by Mr. Roosevelt. He and Admiral McVay said it was much superior in facilities over the Indian Head, Md. ground. Admiral McVay told the committee that tests of sixteen-inch guns at Indian Head because of a limited range, had developed an error of 3,000 yards in actual use. The Dahlgren range, he explained, was thirty miles. He said that technical difficulties made impossible joint use by the army and navy of proving grounds.

HARRISON WITHOUT PRIMARY OPPOSITION

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WINCHESTER, VA., May 4.—State Senator Robert F. Leedy, of Luray, has announced he will not this year oppose Representative Thomas W. Harrison, of Winchester, for the Democratic congressional nomination in the Seventh Virginia District. He opposed Harrison two years ago in the primary. Judge R. T. W. Duke, of Charlottesville, who several months ago announced his candidacy for the nomination, recently withdrew.

The Wedding of Pocahontas

—one of the dramatic episodes of the Pageant Drama

You've never seen a wedding like this

The stirring times of Old Virginia will be lived before you, from the moment at the Court of Queen Elizabeth when the new land is named "Virginia"—down to the present day.

Come and see: The early settlers and their Indian enemies—Captain John Smith and Pocahontas. The Revolutionary Days—Patrick Henry—The Surrender of British at Yorktown. The Days of the Confederacy—General Lee. Scenes depicting the more recent wars, and present progress.

Out under the stars, the Pageant Drama will be acted by 2,000 people on a stage 150 feet wide. 22,000 people will see each performance, with seats from $1 to $2.50. The Amphitheatre is located on Westbrook Avenue, opposite the entrance to Bryan Park. The Superintendent of the Grounds will show and explain the structure to visitors at any time.

This sketch gives a vivid idea of the beauty of the amphitheatre on Westbrook Avenue, opposite the entrance to Bryan Park—where the Pageant Drama will be presented. It is built on a 40-acre plot of ground. Seats are prepared for 22,000 people. Traffic can be easily handled—so there should be no congestion and no discomfort.

RICHMOND CADET CLASS VALEDICTORIAN AT V. M. I.

P. O. Miller Wins Honor at Lexington—Corps on Five-Day Hike.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LEXINGTON, VA., May 4.—General E. W. Nichols, superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute, has announced that the corps of cadets will leave Lexington on May 13 or 15 for a practice march, returning on May 20.

The infantry and cavalry units will go to Rockbridge Baths and then to Goshen Pass, returning by way of the Alum Springs, camping out each night and engaging in various drills, maneuvers and "hikes" each day.

The field artillery unit will go to Buena Vista and thence to the Natural Bridge area of the national government's forest reserve on the James River, where big gun artillery practice will be had. Special arrangements have been made with the authorities in Washington for the use of this area as an artillery range.

Final examinations at the institute are scheduled to begin on May 26 and will continue for about three weeks. The finals program will start with the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 18, to be delivered by the Rev. T. D. C. Macdonald, D. D., pastor of the Seventh Street Christian Church, Richmond, Va.

The principal address to the graduating class will be by Major-General C. J. Bailey, who now commands the third army corps area. The first class has chosen Cadet P. O. Miller, of Richmond, as valedictorian. The Jackson-Hope medals, the Cincinnati medal and other awards and prizes will be delivered by prominent alumni, who will be selected for that purpose in a few days.

Tuesday, June 20, will be Alumni Day. The chief feature of the exercises on that day will be the formal dedication of the alumni athletic field and stadium, the gift of the alumni. An elaborate program is now being worked out for that ceremony. The graduation exercises will be held in the Jackson Memorial Hall on Wednesday, June 21. The final ball will take place that night, and the sunrise gun on the following morning will mark the close of the eighty-third session of the institute.

INVESTIGATE MARKET METHODS OF EUROPE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., May 4.—Believing that a study of the more advanced methods of co-operative marketing practiced in Europe will shed some light on the marketing problems which confront American farmers, the American Farm Bureau Federation has commissioned Samuel Adams, of Greenwood, this county, editor of the American Fruit Grower, of Chicago, to make exhaustive studies of co-operative marketing as it applies to various commodities in England, Ireland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, France and Germany.

Mr. Adams will sail on the Olympic June 3 for England, where he will make his first investigation. The trip will last several months and will include studies in all the countries named.

"I hope to gather a great amount of information dealing with co-operative marketing from the countries where it was born and where it has succeeded best," says Mr. Adams. Mr. Adams will not limit his study to any particular commodity, but will investigate co-operative marketing as an improved system of marketing farm products.

STAFFORD TO SETTLE ROAD BOND ATTITUDE

Mass-Meeting Monday to Hear Discussion; Followed by Vote.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., May 4.—Prominent citizens of Stafford County have arranged to hold a mass-meeting at the courthouse on next Monday at 2 P. M. for the purpose of discussing the proposed $12,000,000 bond issue for roads. Judge Chichester has consented to discontinue court proceedings during the meeting so that the jury and other court officials may take part in the meeting.

Visit the Food Show

$9.20 Worth of Groceries

FREE

NO admission is charged for admittance to the Food Show and Demonstration being staged for the benefit of Richmond housewives by the manufacturers of high-class products at the store of Phillip Levy & Company, 305 West Broad Street. On the contrary, free lunch is served daily from 1 P. M. to 9 P. M. At the demonstrations being held, delicious bread, pastries, coffee, tea and dozens of other nice things to please the taste are prepared—and the visitors partake of them without charge.

Phillip Levy & Company agreed to co-operate with the manufacturers of the best food products and other articles used in performing daily household tasks. Since the opening day of the show, last Monday, interest in it has grown by leaps and bounds, as indicated by the steadily increasing number of visitors.

Phillip Levy & Company have furthered the success of the undertaking by reducing the price of every Refrigerator, Gas or Coal Range and Kitchen Cabinet by deducting $9.20 from the regular sales value. This applies to every style Refrigerator, Range or Cabinet.

To add more interest to the Food Show and Demonstration, the manufacturers give the purchaser of each Refrigerator, Range or Cabinet, without cost, one of each product on display—and there are more than three dozen of them.

Here are some of the articles given absolutely free to the purchaser of a Refrigerator, Range or Cabinet:

- 1 lb. Morara Coffee.
- 1/4 lb. Twilight Tea.
- 1 lb. Mayfield Rice.
- Assorted Spices.
- 1/2 gal. the Velvet Kind Ice Cream.
- 2 loaves American-Maid Bread.
- 1 Nolle's Genuine Pound Cake.
- 1 bottle Frutti-Punch.
- 1 bottle Sauer's Vanilla Extract.
- 1 can Royal Club Vegetables.
- 1 pkg. Wheat-to-Biscuit.
- 1 pkg. Coconut Wafers.
- 1 pkg. V. B. C. Ginger Snaps.
- 1 pkg. Vanilla Wafers.
- 2 quarts Virginia Dairy Milk.
- 12 1/2-lb. sack Dunlop Flour.
- 1/2 lb. Miss Princline Baking Powder.
- 1 can Red Bird Syrup.
- 1 can Capitol Porto Rica Syrup.
- 1 bottle Madolene Sweet Pickles.
- 3 bottles Beaufont Ginger Ale.
- 1 2-lb. can H. & H. Honey.
- 1 pkg. Morton Free-Running Salt.
- 26-oz. bottle Vinegar.
- 1 pkg. F.A.B.
- 1 pkg. Octagon Cleanser.
- 1 cake Octagon Soap.
- 1 cake Octagon Floating White Soap.
- 1 pkg. Octagon Soap Powder.
- 1 pkg. "Q" Brand Macaroni.
- 1 pkg. "Q" Brand Spaghetti.
- 1 pkg. "Q" Brand Noodles.
- 1 can Nestle's Every-Day Milk.
- 1 lb. Blue Valley Butter.
- 1 can Kraft Cheese.
- 1 lb. Troco Nut Butter.

These and other articles given free are worth a total of $9.20, which, together with the reduction of $9.20 on the price of each Refrigerator, Coal or Gas Range or Kitchen Cabinet, is a net saving of $18.40 to each customer.

Indeed, the Food Show and Demonstration offers a golden opportunity to housewives to save money if in need of refrigerators, ranges or cabinets.

Perhaps you will be forced to cast aside your old refrigerator or ice box this summer. Anticipate that need now; select the Refrigerator you want and derive the full saving you can effect by buying from Phillip Levy & Company this week, and at the same time receive free of any charge whatsoever the articles itemized above.

These articles will be given you by the manufacturers—they want you to become familiar with their goods—want you to try them in your own way, in your own home. If you like them, you will know what to tell the grocer when next you order your supplies.

But, really, the Food Show and Demonstration is worth a visit. Drop in at any time, until 9 o'clock at night. You will see and hear much of interest. Some of the new wrinkles in the culinary art are bound to prove of help to you. Then, too, you can see the latest designs in Refrigerators, from simple chests to the more passive affairs, which are practically refrigerating plants. The Coal and Gas Ranges are built to provide the utmost in utility—there is a style for every need. Kitchen Cabinets are also found in a wide variety of models, from which you can make a selection of just the pattern you want.

You assume no obligation to buy when you come to the Food Show and Demonstration—join the hundreds of others who have come and spent a pleasant and instructive half-hour.
